

I think that this is very important. It needs to be strengthened not weakened. It is invasive and I do not appreciate the "pushiness" of many telemarketers. I would rather they do not call me than have to deal with the hassle.

They have a very difficult job; but I have received several calls that I believe to be suspicious. You have won a new car or a free vacation to Disneyland. I thin that some people may be vulnerable to these unsolicited calls of questionable validity. This would be a great injustice to the public.

Ranee Goodroad